PROFILE

I'm a transformational leader who has the spirit of motivating others, and articulates a clear vision effectively to ward myself and others to attain common goals.

I'm a kind of a leader who would like to stimulate their followers to think critically and creatively, encourage them to question assumptions, and develop innovative solutions. I constantly want to work with my fellow team members to support, organise, participate, or accomplish a task or objective. I constantly establish a pleasant work environment by treating everyone with respect and kindness to remove any negativity that can comprise the mission.

I am wholly committed to using technology and innovative solutions to reduce the unemployment rate to 20% by 2050 In my community. To achieve this, it is essential to implement region-specific job creation strategies by conducting surveys to identify the specific needs of each community.

Currently I'm doing software engineering (online studying) in ALU(African Leadership University) with a skill in HTML, CSS, PHP and Python language and a professional in communication.
